

WASHINGTON ITEMS.

In connection with the late draft in Washington, there were about 1,000 drafted men who failed to report to the board of enrollment of which about 100 have been arrested or have reported since. Some twenty-five, mostly negroes, have been arrested in the last two or three days. Numbers of other deserters are now arrested from day to day, also, $30 being paid for each one to the detectives.

In the court-martial the case of William T. Smithson will be argued by Mr. David on Saturday, to which time the case has been postponed.

J. H. Bartholow and T. W. Berry were arrested yesterday on the charge of disloyalty, and were committed to the guardhouse.

Lieut. James R. Hutchinsol, Second Virginia Volunteers U. S. army has been dismissed for gross neglect of duty, in permitting himself and picket to be surprised and captured.

Recruiting under the late call for 300,000 volunteers is to be commenced in the District of Columbia within a few days.

Mr. Galloway, of Ohio, spoke at the Unconditional Union meeting in Baltimore last night. He concluded his speech as follows:—

"Fellow-citizens, I had almost forgotten a very important announcement which it is my duty to make to you. At the request of your Committee, I called to-day upon the President of the United States, and handed to him an invitation to be with you this evening. He said: 'I cannot be there, but I will write a letter; call at two o'clock.' I went to Abraham at 2 o'clock. He said, 'I have tried to write a letter, but I could not find time to express the strong emotions which I have upon this great question.' Oh, said he, 'Galloway, three years ago, or less than three years ago, I went through Baltimore clandestinely, and now they invite me to come to their meeting; how can I express my feelings in view of the past and the present? You may say to them whatever you please; but above all say that I am with them in heart, in sympathy, in the great cause of Unconditional Union and Emancipation. [Great applause.]"

The Cincinnati Gazette has an elaborate defence of Gen. Rosecrans from the charges recently circulated against him, denying, especially, the accusations touching his bravery and physical inability, &c. It says:—"We do not need to be informed from Washington where Gen. Rosecrans was during the battle.—He was where the commander should have been. If there was any exception, it was when he threw himself under fire in the effort to rally the broken troops. When the rout became hopeless, he decided upon a new line on Mission Ridge, and gave his orders accordingly. Then his only practicable communication with Thomas's corps was by way of Chattanooga and Rossville, and he rode back to a place from which his orders could reach the whole army."

Secretary Chase, in his speech at Baltimore, last night, urged the election of Henry W. Davis, to Congress. He said:—"Other men might have praised, but Winter Davis went straight on (applause); other men might have doubted, but Winter Davis never faltered.—(Voices—"Never!") Then stand by him; he has stood by you and your interests, as you are determined to stand. We shall welcome him at Washington as a strong, solid prop of our cause."

The contract for disinterring the bodies on the Gettysburg battle field and at the hospitals, and again interring them in the Soldiers National Cemetery, has been awarded to John Hoke and Franklin Biesecker, at one dollar and fifty-nine cts. per body.

LATEST NEWS.

From the West.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A special dispatch to the Times, dated Chattanooga, Oct. 24th, says: The enemy's actions seem to indicate that Bragg is moving in large force upon Cleveland, Tenn., with the evident purpose of breaking through our lines in that direction.

It is generally believed here that this movement is co-operated in by a portion of Lee's forces from Virginia, moving down by way of Lynchburg and Bristol, Virginia, with the intention of driving Burnside from East Tennessee, and turning a flank of this army and thus compelling its retirement from Chattanooga.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Information from the Army of the Potomac says that General Buford's cavalry division was attacked by the enemy's infantry near Bealeton Station, on Thursday, at noon, and was forced to fall back upon the infantry within one mile of Germantown. There were but few casualties on either side. The skirmishing continued for several hours.
